

Centennial Hound Performance Trial - Millbrook, NY

10/29/2006 - 10/30/2006

The first day at Millbrook provided good sport in unruly conditions. At times it was snowing hard, strong winds and then warm sunshine 5 minutes later. The hounds persisted for almost 5 hours, first chasing a fox and putting it to ground with hounds close behind it's brush. The second run was a coyote that kept hounds busy for over two hours over the magnificent upstate New York countryside. The second day was greeted us with glorious weather and the most picturesque scenery one can imagine for hunting in North America. A coyote was found early. It ran for an hour and 30 minute over hilly difficult terrain at warp speed. Horses and hounds were put to the test. Farnham Collins was a brilliant field master who kept the field close to the action both days.

Centennial Huntsman Tony Leahy, hounds, and staff finish a good day of hunting on a clear blue sky day.
